Newsletter Week 1

We Love Camp Mommy...

Until the ANSBACHERS came and had to tell us and say "maybe we should switch off weeks from Camp Mommy and Camp ANSBACHER! And then when you have a grand trip we'll come with you. And then when we have a grand trip you can come with us. So yeah that would be a really good idea"[I was thinking to myself that's not really a great idea].

This Weeks Excitement

Ayala got a hello kitty lego set from 5 below! Yaakov got a dart board [which mommy did not want in the house cuz it would make dart holes] !You know what? He made those holes anyway and he hung it up in his room and it was like about 23 DART HOLES IN THE WALL![Ouch! his butt was sore the next day].

What A Day To Play

It was the best time to play while it was sunny outside. Especially when we started setting up for a fire and then The ANSBACHERS had to come night swimming and ruin our first day of camp MommyThey had to get all the fun... No fear!

After School In The Pool

The second I got home they really wanted to go in the pool so they just jumped in. They went in there for about a half an hour and Daddy wanted to come in so he came in and it was Really WARM! And EXITING .
